CONTEMPORARY CHRISTIAN MUSIC

GAITHER, MOSER, WEIMER FORM NEW CORP: CCI

NASHVILLE, Tenn.--Bill Gaither, Stan Moser and Jerry Weimer, have announced the formation of a diversified Christian communication company, tentatively dubbed Christian Communications International, Inc. (CCI). The company will result in the forthcoming merger of Alexandria House, Gaither Music Publications and Copyright Management, Pinebrook Studios and Star Song Records and Music. With the planned addition of a new book and educational products division and a new record label, Christian Communications International will be a full service communication company.

Moser, formerly executive vice-president of Word's Records and Music Division, has been named president of the new entity, and will oversee the corporate offices located in Nashville, concentrating on business development. Jerry Weimer, president of Gaither Management Group and a long-time business manager for Gaither, has been named Chairman of the Board, and holds general manager responsibilities for CCI.

Commenting on the merger, CCI majority stock holder Bill Gaither said, "Over the last few years we have been fortunate enough to have assembled a group of outstanding executives in these companies. We believe that by unifying our efforts through the creation of an 'umbrella organization' designed to complement our existing individual structures, we can create even more effective products that will serve the needs of the Church."

According to Weimer, the move is projected to give the combined companies more strength both in the marketing and financial arenas, and should allow economies of scale to be achieved. Each of the divisions of the new company will retain their individual entities, operating in much the same manner as in recent months.

Alexandria House, a recognized leader in the marketing, sales, and distribution of printed music, projects continued growth --supported in part by the combined resources of its sister divisions of CCI. Alexandria House president, Bob Rist, who has headed the company for ten years, plans an expansion of its distribution services, and will continue to direct all Alexandria House activities.

Gaither Music Publications will continue to oversee the development and manufacturing of all printed music under the guidance of Randy Vader, Gaither Music veteran and former National Music Director for the Zondervan corporation.

Gaither Copyright Management will continue as a separate operating unit in the new corporation. Under the direction of Debra Shanklin Mayes, the group will oversee the administration and royalty accounting for all CCI copyrights, as well as copyrights for a number of independent publishers, for whom it will function as a service agency.

Jim Rogers, current general manager of Pinebrook Recording Studios, will continue in that capacity, and will assume the responsibility for the initiation of CCI's new record label.

Star Song president, Darrell Harris, will continue his existing role of directing recording and copyright development activities, in Houston and Nashville.

39TH ANNUAL CBA CONVENTION: SURE TO BE AN "ADVENTURE"

DALLAS, Tex.--The 39th annual Christian Booksellers Association Convention (CBA) is set to take place July 16-21 at the Dallas Convention Center. Approximately 10,000 booksellers, authors, suppliers and recording artists will meet for the Christian retailers event of the year.

The Outreach Adventure (this year's convention theme) will give retailers the opportunity to see the newest and most exciting products available as they visit the exhibit hall which boasts 275,000 square feet of floorspace, the equivalent of six football fields. In addition to the exhibits, there will be trade shows, workshops and concerts to take up the remainder of the convention-goer's time.

The Saturday evening concert will feature The Imperials, Steve Green, The Nelons, Vickie Winans, and Greg Buchanan, with Mike Warnke as emcee. Other appearances include Twila Paris and First Call at Sunday's Pacesetter Session as well as Renee Garcia at Monday's General Session. Sandi Patti will perform Thursday evening at the convention closing CBA Banquet. Patti will share the stage with Joni Eareckson Tada who will be the banquet's featured speaker.

According to CBA the purpose of the convention is to give retailers a "chance to view products, sharpen business skills and garner new approaches to outreach in your community." As well as accomplishing these goals, in past years the convention has been a key time for companies to introduce new promotions, make major announcements and promote their wares. Artists and authors take turns in "Personality Booths,"

Guest Editorial

A WASTED OPPORTUNITY

By Frank Burke

In the June 20th Update, I read with extreme interest the article explaining the Benson/Frontline/Enigma team venture called "Hot Metal Summer." It sounded like a great idea until the last paragraph when Kent Songer of Frontline was quoted as saying, "The real beauty of this is that it is a Christian bookstore-only promotion. I'm sorry, but to me this is not the beauty of it, but rather a grave error."

There are hundreds of thousands of young people in our country headed straight for Hell without Jesus Christ. The average teen will never set foot in a Christian bookstore. While Christians may buy these albums for their unsaved friends, there are thousands of young people who don't have any Christian friends. These people go on their merry way to the mall to pick up metal-acts such as Poison, Metallica, and Slayer.

The front page article spoke of the acceptance of Christian metal (by Christians we must assume, seeing who the promotion is geared for). Well, others are interested as well. Some of the same kids who plunked down $8 or more for the Motley Crue album, also took out a few dollars and picked up Stryper's "To Hell with the Devil," and launched their song "Honestly" onto Billboard's Hot 100 chart, and its companion video into the #1 slot on MTV's all request feature, Dial-MTV. These kids are hungry and searching. With so many Christian record companies having secular distribution deals, it's a great injustice to launch this promotion to Christian stores only.

I gave my life to Jesus a little over two-and-a-half years ago --two years after I started listening to contemporary Christian music. One day, out of curiosity, I walked into a Christian bookstore to see what kind of music they had. I came across a 10 cut sampler album called "The Spirit Sound Check." At $2.99 I figured "Why not? I can check out some different artists and if I don't like it, the most I can lose is three bucks." As it turns out, I was quite impressed. Next, I latched onto Myrrh's "Rock and Roll in the Third Dimension." I liked the material on this $6.99 bonanza so much that I bought the LP's by Randy Stonehill, White Heart, Dion and Leslie Phillips that were represented on the album. Little did I realize that two years later I would give my life to the Lord following a Tom Franzak concert, and wind up spending hundreds of dollars on Christian LP's in the years to follow.

Now picture a secular record store in a large mall. Someone is buying the new Iron Maiden album and with a couple bucks to spare spots a $2.99 cassette called "Hot Metal Summer." I'm sure that curiosity will tell him or her the same thing it told me, "What's the worst that could happen? I could lose three bucks."

PLEASE, let's not limit this great opportunity to hear new artists just to those who already know the message. Let's extend it to those dying without hope and without Christ. "Hot Metal Summer" and the amazingly low priced "New Music Summer" from Sparrow have amazing potential for the kingdom of God. Let's not bury our talent, but invest it. Not for us but for Christ. For without Him, this music we love so dearly would not even exist.

Burke is the music director of The Solid Rock Show, on WRKC-FM/Wilkes Barre, PA.

AMERICA ARISE! --AND SING!

NASHVILLE, Tenn.--The Worship Congress, an organization whose primary focus is educating people on how to lead worship, will be asking Americans to rise to the occasion on August 12. On that day, Christians will gather at Nashville's Vanderbilt Stadium for the sole purpose of glorifying God. America Arise! is an assembling of Christians which its organizers compare to the gathering of Judah in II Chronicles 20, "to tell all who would hear that His mercy endures forever."

The stadium will hold a capacity crowd of 40,000 and David Rowell, who is heading up public relations for the event, hopes to see that capacity reached. The event will be a time of singing including anyone who would like to participate. There will no big-name artists on the bill, although they obviously wouldn't be discouraged from joining in. Ray Hughes, President of America Arise!, as well as the other organizers would like to keep the focus on the whole body of Christ and not on specific artists.

The evening will begin with prayer, followed by music and a processional during the worship time. America Arise! is still recruiting musicians, singers and processionalists as well as people who would just like to come and worship. There is no admission charge although a love offering will be taken during the course of the evening. Discount airfares are available through American Airlines. For more information, call: (615) 22-MUSIC.

NEW CORP: CCI

The book and educational products divisions of the new corporation will emerge during 1989 under the initial direction of Stan Moser, who recently relocated to Nashville to assume his duties. All other operating divisions are expected to remain in their present locations.

"Our desire, with the formation of CCI, is to provide a new, broad platform from which communicators can share their message through a variety of media --without the need for multiple business relationships," said Moser. "I've been a part of the 'Christian communication industry' all of my adult life. CCI gives all of us a further opportunity to invest our lives in the process of sharing the message of Jesus with 'all who have ears to hear.'"

 where they make themselves "available" for an hour or more. With music making up 18.7% of Christian Bookstores' $1.45 billion annual retail volume, the music industry has a major presence at the convention.

The Benson Company will be hosting "An Evening of Praise" on Tuesday night with performances by Carman, Dino, Glad, Phil Driscoll, Crystal Lewis, Larnelle Harris, Harvest, Billy and Sarah Gaines and Gerald Wolfe. They will also make available a booklet containing their major artists' pictures and mission statements --something that hasn't been available before. Carman's Radically Saved video will premiere in its entirety. To promote the video, Benson will be given away copies hourly, and a wide screen TV will be given away on Wednesday.

StarSong will be debuting their marketing plan for the new Petra and Twila Paris albums. At the Star Song booth, the "Carry the Light" video will be playing, featuring label-mates Twila Paris, The Bill Gaither Trio, Mylon & Broken Heart and John Schlitt of Petra, as well as Michael W. Smith, Sharon Batts, Margaret Becker and other Christian artists. This video will debut nationally on CBN the week of the convention.

Any Sparrow or Word news will have to wait until the week of the convention, but there will more than likely be plenty of promotions and news. The convention, which ranks in the top 2% of all U.S. trade shows (according to size), will definitely be the center of much activity.

CCM ALBUMS Update

Phil Driscoll, Classical Hymns-Volume I (Benson/Mighty Horn)
When they say "Classical," they mean classical. Driscoll shuns his soulful playing and electronic bells and whistles for serious classical arrangements and traditional hymns. The symphony hall feel is provided by the National London's Philharmonic Orchestra. Although this is all instrumental, the liner notes include lyrics, insights from Driscoll and historical background on each hymn. Driscoll proves himself an accomplished classical trumpeter on this beautiful release for serious music lovers.

Bloodgood, Rockin' a Hard Place (Frontline)

The top-selling Christian metal band on a gospel label debuts a softer approach to head-banging on their third album. Some of the changes: lead screamer, Les Carlson sings in a lower vocal register; the boys in the band have left their spandex and chains for a light metal costume; and the music is much more commercial. All of this is obviously designed to attract a larger audience and it should work. The lyrics are refreshingly insightful, skirting around typical metal clichés. The only disappointment is the album's length: a little more than 30 minutes.

Morris Chapman, Sunshine and Rain (Wordsong)

This may be Chapman's strongest album yet. With a stronger effort on musical production, Chapman expands his repertoire with classy soul arrangements (reminiscent at times of Al Jarreau). Chapman teams up with Claire Cloninger for a cohesive collection of songs of encouragement.

Gabriel, Gabriel (Home Sweet Home)

Although the group Gabriel has been around for a while, this is their first major market release. Their music features a funky pop sound with a slight rock edge and some slick top 40 pop. The high point, though, is the deep spiritual lyrics designed to challenge the listener. They also have a distinct missions emphasis, obviously stemming from Gabriel-sponsored youth trips to Haiti.

Billy and Sarah Gaines, He'll Find a Way (Benson)

Following up their radio-successful debut album, the Gaines' second release features plenty more radio-worthy material. This husband and wife duo are labeled inspo-pop by their label. There is a light soul approach to their music which is easily acceptable to a white audience. The lyrics are out-front praise declarations. Produced by Benson's A&R director, Dan Cleary and musical support by Keith Thomas, Phil Naish and Tom Hemby.

Tim Miner, I Know You Think You Know (Sparrow)

Miner and his all-star cast of producers, musicians, and singers have produced the hottest urban rock record in Christian music. The sound is slick, gritty, quirky (not unlike Janet Jackson), and danceable. The surprise lies in the content. Lyrics are meaty exposes on modern youth culture. Another surprise is the ballads--the sensitive "Did I forget to say?", the touching prayer in "Cover me", and the contemporary cover of "Now (I lay me down to sleep)"--in other words this release has depth. And this white boy has soul.

Jim Murray, I am His (Word)

Murray's second solo release simply overpowers his debut, Christians Arise. The former tenor with the Imperials pulled out all the stops for a powerful MOR release. On one hand Murray sounds very comfortable with the Steve Green/Larnelle Harris-style songs. The other songs reflect the pre- and early Russ Taff days of the Imperials. Their light, easy going feel add a pleasant contrast to the big numbers. "Pray for the children" and "Beginning Again" provide a sensitive, vulnerable touch.

Various Artists, Hot Metal Summer (Benson)

This collection of four metal bands from two labels is designed to help parents and youth understand the ministry and attitude of each group. This cassette-only release ($2.99 retail) features an interview segment and a song from the newest release from Stryper and Barren Cross (Enigma), Bloodgood and Shout (Frontline). Stores may consider using these as educational tools for key Christian leaders in your community.

CCM SINGLES Update

PICK OF THE WEEK:

Dallas Holm, "Rise Again" (DaySpring)

The song hit #1 back in 1980 on CCM's Inspirational chart, and this new updated version of the classic will no-doubt cover the same ground.

DeGarmo & Key, "The Live Medley," b/w "War with the World" (Power Discs) 12"

The A-side is a spirited live cut from the forthcoming Rock Solid... Absolutely Live CD featuring three of DeGarmo & Key's pop-hits in medley. "War with the World" is a tune lifted from the group's current LP, D&K, showing swirling keys, a pounding beat, and Dana Key's potent guitar work.

Eternity, "Hand in Hand," b/w "Praise His Name" (Bread 'n Honey) 12"

This contemporary vocal group pulls together a couple of uplifting, tightly produced tunes on this debut single release from their Made for Praise LP. "Hand in Hand" is a high-energy, jazzy number with a spry horn section and a pattering bass anchor, while the flip-side's cut is a building inspirational praise number.

Gabriel, "Slippin' Into Mediocrity," b/w "A Simple Prayer" (Home Sweet Home)

Veteran Christian group Gabriel debuts these cuts from their self-titled Home Sweet Home release after years of independent recordings. "Slippin'..." is a brooding plea to God with an atmospheric synth backing. "A Simple Prayer" is an honest tune of surrender with an acoustic piano/synth soundtrack.

Terri Gibbs, "Turnaround" (Canaan)

This LP's been plumb deep, but it's still yielding gems. Title cut uses serene string work, a gentle acoustic guitar, and a dawdling bass in support of Gibbs' calming country vocal.

Nancy Honeytree, "Purify My Heart" (Milk & Honey)

A billowing cut appealing to the Lord for spiritual renewal. Ringing mandolins and a sometimes booming beat flesh out the accompaniment.

Joseph Lamm, "Three Kings," b/w "Self Portraits" (HMS) 12"

Second radio releases from Lamm's independent Standing in the Tower sport stellar production values and avant-garde rock stylings. "Three Kings" is the more aggressive of the tunes, but both should thrill adventurous programmers. (805) 942-7108

Jim Murray, "Who am I Years" (Word)

Inspirational cut dealing with the alienation kids encounter through childhood. Synth and string accompaniment.

Newsong, "The One, the Only Jesus" (Word)

Heartfelt song of praise featuring dramatic orchestration and the group's exchanging leads and harmonies.

Sheila Walsh, "Wind of Change" (Myrrh) 12"

This refreshing cut is musically highlighted by a weaving Soprano Sax and soothing strings. Inventive percussion keeps the tune moving well-to an off beat--as Walsh alludes to the exhilaration of keeping in step with the Spirit's leading.

Wayne Watson, "Would I Know You" (DaySpring)

Personal but passionate vocal accompanies an intense message encouraging one's sensitivity to the reality of Christ. Stripped down keyboard backing supports the cut's straight-forward appeal.

Christine Wyrzten, "Accountable to God" (Loveland)

This timely message on the need for accountability was the theme song for the 1988 NRB convention. Gently paced with stately shadings. (513) 575-1177

The CCM airplay charts are compiled from reports obtained by telephone from selected Christian radio stations in the U.S. The Rock, Inspirational, and Contemporary Hits charts reflect songs receiving the most airplay on reporting stations for the two-week period ending June 27, 1988. ("* = Re-entry, -- = New Entry, First Column = Weeks on Chart, Second Column = Position 2 Weeks Ago, Third Column = Position This Week.)

The Video Airplay chart is compiled from reports solicited from selected Christian video shows and is primarily based on viewer requests for the four-week period ending June 28, 1988. ("MO" = Months on Chart, "LM" = Position Last Month, "TM" = Position This Month.)

CHART WATCH

Adult Contemporary

After topping the chart last time out, the only gauge of the popularity of Amy Grant's "Saved by Love" is by looking at the numbers. The margin between Grant and Billy Sprague's second placing "I Call It Love" is over 350 points (sorry Billy). To give you an idea of what kind of margin that is, this period's #20 song has a total point-count of less than 350! Both Sprague and Mark Farner's "Isn't It Amazing" did make good progress though, landing within the top-5. Sandi Patti's "Love Will Be Our Home" is looking healthy at #8, after debuting last period. This time's significant forward progress winners include Randy Stonehill's "Coming Back Soon" and the latest single releases by Sparrow-mates Steven Curtis Chapman, Tim Miner and Steve Green. Sparrow also holds the two highest new entries in Margaret Becker and Geoff Moore's "Find Me" and "One of Us" respectively.

Inspirational

Michael Card's "That's What Faith Must Be" takes command of First Place after debuting last period, while Steve Green's "Find Us Faithful" rockets to the #4 position (a 16 placement advance) --also a last period debut. This week's five new entries are headed by Craig Smith's "Ancient of Days," followed close behind by Harvest's "His Angels Are Everywhere," and Sandi Patti's newest, "Love Will Be Our Home." Amy Grant's AC blow-out, "Saved by Love" makes an appearance, as Patti's former hit, "Make His Praise Glorious," holds on after sixteen weeks.

Contemporary Hits

Grant extends her lead on this chart too, as "Saved By Love" holds on to #1 for the second week. Jon Gibson's "Yah Mo B There" moves up six to place into the top-5, as Margaret Becker enters at #6 with "Find Me" --the period's highest entry. Worth noting is the fact that David & the Giants have three different songs, on three different charts -- "Celebrate His Power," -- Contemporary Hits; "Restless," -- Rock; and "Show Them the Light," -- Adult Contemporary.

Rock

Another one of those tight races on Rock. The top-3 are separated by a total of only eight points. "Consider" came out ahead though, giving The Choir a chart-topping cut with Chase the Kangaroo's debut. Cua's "Can't Stand Too Tall" holds the #2 position for the third consecutive period, while Mylon & Broken Heart's "Won by One" falls from the top-spot after two periods there. Stryper's In God We Trust debut jumps nine spots to settle within the top-5 after only two weeks, while Greg Volz's "Come Out Fighting" makes a strong showing at #9 during the same time period --that's only a one placement advance, though, from its top-10 debut last issue. Only three new entries this time, with Margaret Becker's "Light in the Darkness" leading the way at #16.

Correction: In last period's Chart Watch, we incorrectly stated that "When I Lift Him Up in Praise" was Gordon Jensen's first #1 song. Back in 1981 Jensen had a #1 hit in "Bigger Than Any Mountain," and in late '87, "God Still Loves the World" went to #1. We apologize for the error.
