CONTEMPORARY CHRISTIAN MUSIC

JOSEPH REALIGNS WORD RECORD DIVISION STRUCTURE

DALLAS, Texas--Neal Joseph, newly-named Vice President of Records for Word, Inc., last week announced the completion of a "realignment" of responsibilities for staff based in the Los Angeles and Nashville offices.

"The purpose of the restructuring is really threefold," said Joseph. "First, to utilize more fully each individual's strengths. Second, to promote creativity within the parameters of the corporate structure and third, to improve the communication and interaction between our offices in Los Angeles, Nashville and our new headquarters in Dallas.

Dean Arvidson has been named Director of Marketing for the L.A. office. A seven-year veteran with Word who recently earned his MBA, Arvidson was formerly the sales rep for Word's northern California territory. His new duties for Word/LA include the creation and implementation of all marketing strategies for the Myrrh label and artists such as Amy Grant, Randy Stonehill, Russ Taff, Steve Taylor and others. "Dean brings a very unique perspective to this position," said Joseph. "His extensive background in both sales and marketing will give us a very practical foundation for our marketing plans and programs."

Former marketing assistant Jack Clark has been moved to Advertising Manager, reporting directly to Arvidson. He will also handle relationships with independent publicity firms in Los Angeles.

Deb Rhodes was named General Manager for the L.A. operation. Rhodes began her career at Word five years ago as a marketing representative for the Print Music Division and then moved to the marketing department for Myrrh Records in 1984. In her new post, Rhodes will be in charge of all financial, operations, and post-production decisions for that office.

Laurie Fink, Production Manager, will report to Rhodes and will directly oversee the creation and production of photography, artwork and film for album covers.

The A&R department in Los Angeles remains under the leadership of Lynn Nichols, Vice President of A&R for Myrrh Records. James Bullard continues as general manager of the Black Music Division in charge of marketing and promotion. Both report directly to Joseph in Dallas.

In Word's Nashville office, Barry Landis and Lynn Keesecker continue as Director of Marketing and Development and Director of A&R, respectively. Landis also handles the creation and promotion of all music videos originating from Nashville. Terry Short has been named Production and Office Manager with direct responsibility for the conceptualization and creation of all album covers and the day-to-day office operations.

New appointees to Word/Nashville's marketing department are Dan Lynch and Gina Binkley. Lynch, former radio and retail reporter in Word's Waco office, has been appointed to the newly-created position of Marketing Manager. Binkley takes over as Advertising Manager. She most recently served as Art Director for Eric Ericson & Associates, Tennessee's largest advertising agency. Lynch and Binkley will report to Landis.

"CARRY THE LIGHT" EVENT DRAWS OVER 18,000 TO REUNION ARENA

DALLAS, Texas--"Carry the Light," an outreach event sponsored by Thomas Nelson Publishers and Petra's Firstborne Productions, drew a near-capacity crowd of 18,500 to Dallas' Reunion Arena. More than 250 people reportedly came forward to make first-time decisions or rededications to Christ.

Petra was featured at the event, which was held during CBA in conjunction with the group's recently announced endorsement of Nelson's "Transformer" youth Bible. Other performers included Twila Paris, Carman and Sharon Batts. Speakers included Josh McDowell and Campus Crusade for Christ founder Bill Bright.

The evening exceeded expectations, according to Thomas Nelson President Sam Moore: "'Carry the Light' surpassed our goals of providing outreach to the Dallas community, and celebrating the preservation and propagation of God's Word through different translations such as 'The Transformer,'" Moore said. "We saw strong acceptance of the message presented by the many fine artists and speakers who participated."

More than $16,000 was raised by the concert and will go directly to organizations that distribute Bibles throughout the world such as the American Bible Society, Bibles for India, Campus Crusade for Christ, Gideons International and the Luis Palau Evangelistic Organization.

"The Transformer" is Nelson's most popular youth Bible, with over 100,000 in print. Through their new endorsement agreement, it will be available at Petra concerts and through the group's newsletter.

SOVIETS INVITE CHRISTIAN MUSICAL TO PLAY IN THREE RUSSIAN CITIES

TULSA, Okla.--Soviet audiences in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev will experience the message of Christianity beginning in two weeks through a contemporary dance allegory. Toymaker's Dream, an elaborate Broadway-type touring musical which features the work of several contemporary Christian musicians, has been invited by the Soviet Peace Committee to give 14 performances in the Soviet Union. The performances will run August 31 through September 14 as a cultural exchange during Soviet "Peace Week."

Produced by Impact Productions of Tulsa, Toymaker's Dream depicts the Biblical account of man's creation, fall from God's grace and the redemption through the life and death of Jesus Christ. God is portrayed as "The Toymaker" and His creations are toys in "Dreamland." The universal and timeless message of love, rebellion, sacrifice and redemption is expressed allegorically.

The show has a cast and crew of 30 (average age: 22) which uses mime, jazz and ballet, acrobatics, karate, elaborate lighting and costumes, pyrotechnics, narration and an original rock-influenced soundtrack to communicate the story.

The music was originally produced almost entirely by Mike Demus of the Farrell & Farrell band. Sherman Andrus, the Farrells, 2nd Chapter of Acts and Kelly Willard are all heard on the pre-recorded soundtrack.

According to Tom Newman, president of the non-profit Impact Productions, the Soviet trip has been in the making since 1986 when Dewey Crowder, then vice president of Sister Cities International, expressed interest in Toymaker's Dream being utilized as an exchange with the Soviet Union. After meetings with the U.S. Information Agency, Newman went to Moscow for presentations to the Soviet Peace Committee, the Stas Namin Music Center and representatives from Gorky Park Amphitheatre. Last December, the Soviets extended an official invitation for what has become the "Toymaker's Dream International Peace Tour."

Although the Soviets will pick up the cost of housing and food for the cast and crew, Impact's budget for the tour is approximately $175,000 for transportation and other expenses. Although $70,000 short of the total needed, Newman is confident that the balance can be raised. "We are absolutely delighted to be invited to Russia. The performing arts have been a universal vehicle of expression throughout the ages. Our message is ageless and crosses all cultural and political barriers. In view of Soviet Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev's recent signals for a new era of religious tolerance in Russia, we anticipate large audiences for our performances.

"We are still short of all the funds necessary for the Russian tour," Newman continues, "but the opportunity to take the message of Christianity to the walls of the Kremlin at Gorky Park Amphitheatre in Moscow is certainly worth any sacrifice on our part. Our corporate vision is to share with the people of the world a message of hope. After three years of effort, we will finally have the opportunity to share this message with our Russian friends."

"CHRISTIAN ROCKER'S CREED" PUBLISHED

WALNUTPORT, Penn.--A company here has published what it considers to be a "positive, Biblical response" to the recent controversy over Christian rock. Based on the Bill of Rights, Biblical principles and common sense, "The Christian Rocker's Creed" is intended to foster "proper attitudes" among Christians--rockers or otherwise.

The parchment-style document reads, in part: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all music was created equal--that no instrument or style of music is in itself evil--that the diversity of musical expression which flows forth from man is but one evidence of the boundless creativity of our Heavenly Father..."

"We pledge that our personal musical preferences shall not become a point of contention between ourselves and other members of the Body of Christ but rather, our fellowship shall be based solely on the shed blood of our Lord."

"The Christian Rocker's Creed" is being offered for $7.50 postpaid. Write Sudden Images, P.O. Box T, Walnutport, PA 18088.

GALLERY

Amy Grant's Christmas Album and Straight Ahead have been certified gold for sales of 50,000 units by the Canadian Recording Industry Association (CRIA). According to Word Records, Ltd., which distributes Grant's records in Canada, Age to Age and Unguarded have previously been certified as gold sellers by the CRIA. Gathered around "Amy" are (from left): Wayne Zeitner, Word Ltd. sales manager; and reps Dave Morton, Phil Crofton, Carl Teeple, Gary Ricard and Don Harbridge.

Sharon Batts and PowerSource ("Dear Mr. Jesus") are now recording a new album for PowerVision Records. Tentatively titled Wanna Be Good, the project is scheduled for release in January. Shown working at Nashville's Studio 19 is Sharon Batts (left) with the album's producer, Lari Goss.

During an in-studio visit to KREO in California's Bay Area, Illustrator's "Gina" was pitted against new singles by Kenny Loggins, Freddie Jackson, Corey Hart and Pretty Poison in the station's "New Music Match" in which listeners call-in and vote their preference. No doubt to the surprise of many, "Gina" beat out all of its gold and platinum competition. Pictured are (from left): Dan Gaub, Dawndee Gaub and Mark Matthews of Illustrator; Trevor Carey, KREO music director; Mark Jefferies, KREO program director; and Nathan Gaub and Kirk Allen of Illustrator.

Baylor University graduate Wendy Foy has signed with Urgent Records. Her debut album Finders Keepers is described as "dance/pop" and is scheduled for release September 1. Producer is Brian Green, who is shown here with Foy.

Songwriter/artist David Mullen has signed an exclusive songwriting contract with the Word Music Group. Mullen, who turned in an impressive performance at an "After-hours Showcase" during GMA Week earlier this year, describes his music as "straight-ahead American music with an earthy, 'Delta-swamp' vibe." Mullen (right) is shown here with Debbie Atkins, creative director of the Word Music Group.

Don Koch, writer of "The Father Hath Provided" as well as songs recorded by Sandi Patti, Jim Murray and others, has re-signed with the Benson Publishing Group. Koch (right) is shown with John Barker, general manager of the Publishing/Copyright Division of the Zondervan Music Group.

CCM ALBUMS Update

Force 3, Warrior of Light (Pure Metal)

Straight-ahead, thumping, heavy metal. Guitars are king for this British group. All else takes a back seat—including vocals. Minimal production value.

Renee Garcia, A Different World (Reunion)

Garcia's second release expands on the urban contemporary sounds of her debut album. Funky, danceable tunes with an infectious backbeat reign on this energized collection of sophisticated pop/rock influenced by British producer/artist Chris Eaton. Garcia's voice has to be about the purist in Christian music today. This is a CHR-ready release. It fills the void in contemporary Christian music of Prince, Lisa Lisa, Debbie Gibson styles. Target pre-adolescents through college-age.

Jeff Johnson, Why Should the Heart Not Dance? (Ark)

Johnson's innovative performance and production of contemporary instrumentals is considered "impressionistic." This release features his unique blend of acoustic and electronic instruments set to soothing—at times off-beat—arrangements.

Ojo, Relative (Broken)

The leader of former punk band Undercover and now president of Broken Records (real name: Joey Taylor) has released his long-awaited solo debut. Taylor never sings, but uses six different lead vocalists and five guitarists on this production. And don't expect the shallow thrash of early Undercover. He actually takes the introspective dark tunes of Undercover's last studio album, Branded, a step further. Relative is an avant garde collection of songs from a deep thinker communicating hurt, anger and disillusionment at the sins of the world and the church. The music flows between funky, tribal-rhythms (reminiscent of label-mate Adam Again) and European alternative music. Some may consider this a great, personal artistic statement. Others who like their gospel plain may consider it spiritually wanting.

Saint, Too Late for Living (Pure Metal)

Another Pure Metal act with an overwhelming, pretentious approach to metalmania. Typical sci-fi, dark, apocalyptic images throughout.

Gerald Wolfe, Gerald Wolfe (RiverSong)

Here's the first recorded evidence of that booming voice in a small package which blew folks away this year at GMA. As the pianist for the Cathedrals, he could be considered Southern Gospel's Steve Green. But the music on his debut is more Green than Southern. It is a pleasing mix of inspirational and MOR with one Southern gospel and one black gospel cut thrown in for variety. Let's hope his background and label association don't pigeon-hole him as a Southern gospel artist. He's a force to be reckoned with in inspirational as well.

There are no "Picks" this period.

CCM SINGLES Update

PICKS OF THE WEEK:

Amy Grant, "Lead Me On" (Myrrh) 12"

Title cut makes for a strong follow-up to Grant's debut chart-topper "Saved by Love." Storyline depicts a hope of glory in the midst of persecution and oppression—set to a highly melodic hook-ridden soundtrack.

Michael W. Smith, "Pray for Me," b/w "Help You Find Your Way" (Reunion) CD

Smitty is back in a big way with "Pray for Me." Solid lyrical content affirms Smith's intentions to operate within an unveiled Christian context, yet with the same high production levels introduced on The Big Picture. Atmospheric soundtrack includes acoustic guitar work, a thunderous slow beat, and synth textures. B-side's rocker sports the big beat and a rock guitar undercurrent.

Bill Baumgart, "Return the Favor" (Frontline)

Current single from Baumgart's self-produced album, The Kindling, shows polished pop production with a rock guitar edge. A nice sax break adds to the cut's musical appeal, all supporting a theme of thanksgiving for God's blessings.

Bloodgood, "What Have I Done?" b/w "The Presence" (Frontline) 12"

"What Have I Done" is a painful song of regret displaying the group's lighter metal approach of late. The despair of the A-side, however, is resolved in "The Presence." A rhythmic power-guitar groove sustains a focus on God's love and power.

Steve Camp, "The Church is All of You" (Sparrow)

Mid-paced cut mixes up equal doses of guitar edge and synth shimmer as it encourages a disenchanted church to "stand together."

Morris Chapman, "The Might and the Majesty" (Wordsong) 12"

Gentle R&B praise number, incorporates a sleepy sax and a weaving bass alongside Chapman's gliding vocal. Smooth, cut-ending scat is a treat.

Alan Chase, "Stranger at Home" (Fortress) 12"

Billowing, emotion-wrought tune from Chase's One Step Closer album, deals with the problem of inner-turmoil, loneliness, and dissatisfaction with oneself. Musically built upon a single acoustic piano accompaniment.

Edin-Adahl, "Miracle," b/w "Yes I Know" (Solid Rock Imports) 12"

Veteran Swedish act has a couple of noteworthy tunes here. "Miracle" is a quirky, inventive tune, incorporating modern synth stylings and active percussion work. The energetic "Yes I Know" compliments Phil Collins (a la "Sussudio") with its energetic horns and chugging synth/guitar groove.

Terri Lynn, "Born Twice" (Milk & Honey)

Title cut from Lynn's debut is a refreshing modern country tune which testifies to the joy of salvation. Vocally sounds like a courtierified Leslie Phillips, while fronting an acoustic backtrack.

Billy Sprague, "If I Know Love," b/w "What Goes Around Comes Around" (Reunion)

Acoustically-oriented "If I Know Love" shows that the answer to love's heartache is found in the personification of love --Jesus. B-side's rave-up acoustic rocker features an undeniably appealing hook in the sing-a-long "hey yah dee ah dee" chant, then comes back once again to Sprague's La Vie theme, Love.

Greg X Volz, "Will You Take Me Back?" b/w "I Don't Know Why" (Myrrh)

"Will You Take Me Back?" features an impassioned vocal delivery and first-rate synth/guitar production (tamer than its predecessor "Take Me to the End"), but could stand for a bit more clarity in its lyrical intentions. "I Don't Know Why" picks up the pace for a rockin' look at youth's passion—in the past tense.

CHART WATCH

Top Albums

That Lead Me On remains at the top this month should surprise no one. Our reports indicate stronger movement last month on this product than we've ever seen before on any album. Stryper's In God We Trust becomes the controversial quartet's highest-charting album on the CCM Top 50 (To Hell With the Devil peaked at #4 in February 1987). Sales remain strong on Find Us Faithful and Make His Praise Glorious, both of which moving at levels similar to Stryper. Praise 10 makes an auspicious debut at #9, as does Bloodgood at #17. Healthy gains were posted by Margaret Becker (up 12 to #11), Tim Miner (up 17 to #15) and Steven Curtis Chapman (up 12 to #24).

Adult Contemporary

Poor Tim Miner! "Did I Forget to Say" has been sitting there waiting for "Saved by Love" to run out of gas and when it does, here comes Steven Curtis Chapman! "His Eyes" was reported by 66 stations, vs. 59 each for Miner and Grant. Margaret Becker moves into the top five with "Find Me." Add Michael Card at #5 and Sparrow is flying high with four of the top five! Chris Christian is back on the chart with "Love Did It Again," which will no doubt be bolstered by its inclusion in the soundtrack of the film Dakota (with Lou Diamond Phillips).

Inspirational

Steve Green's "Find Us Faithful" takes over the #1 spot as Michael Card's "That What Faith Must Be" begins to lose reports and points. Sparrow has a lock on the top three, however, since Steven Curtis Chapman moves up to #2. Randy Stonehill takes the biggest leap, with "Coming Back Soon" blowing past all of last period's debut product to land in the top 10 in its second showing. Big debuts this time are from Wayne Watson at #10, Kim Hill at #11 and Nancy Honeytree at #16.

Contemporary Hits

"Saved by Love," which began losing steam last time (although it stayed at #1), drops to #5, which allows Margaret Becker to rise to the top. Tim Miner seems stuck at #2 while Kim Boyce and Stryper each take a step forward. Watch out, though, Amy's "Lead Me On" debuts at #10. Although the song has already stiffed on the pop side, it's showing on Christian radio could be altogether different. Highest debut, however, goes to Sheila Walsh with "Winds of Change" from her Say So album. Three artists each occupy two positions on the CHR chart this time--Amy Grant, Steven Curtis Chapman and Kim Boyce. Ironically, Randy Stonehill debuted two songs here last time but both dropped off.

Rock

Not a real exciting rock chart this time, folks. Just a lot of moving around of titles. Only one song is new to the chart--Rick Cua's "Hard Times"--and there was relatively little movement for the remaining songs. Stryper maintains a solid #1 status. Geoff Moore moves up one as Mark Farner slips. Mylon & Broken Heart have the greatest upward movement as "Sixteen" climbs up eight to #10. If only one song came on the chart, that means only one dropped off, right? Give up? It was Illustrator's "Love Is Not Your Enemy."
