Peacock to Premiere on Internet; Other Labels, Artists to Follow

AS PART OF THE marketing campaign for Charlie Peacock's upcoming project Everything That's On My Mind, Sparrow Communications Group has announced plans to world premiere the album's first single, "One Man Gets Around," over the Internet—a first for a contemporary Christian release.

NetCentral, Inc., an Internet services corporation that is working to put Christian music companies on the Internet, will debut its services in mid-November with Sparrow's unveiling of The Very Official Charlie Peacock Internet Site. Sparrow plans to use the service to pre-promote the December 27 street date of Peacock's Everything That's On My Mind.

In addition to the first single, sample excerpts from all of the songs on Peacock's project will be made available to Internet users on their personal computers before the album is actually available at retail. Users will also be able to download photos, artwork, lyrics, essays and participate in an interactive interview with Peacock. The interview will give users a list of questions to choose from, offering either a text response or a voice response. A "virtual" bio will allow users to click on key highlighted words that will take them to another page of information, play a sound or display a full color picture. Peacock will be the first contemporary Christian artist to sponsor his own internet mailing list, providing an online discussion group.

"Sparrow's market research and surveys of Peacock's existing and potential fan base were a major factor in our decision to venture into on-line technology," said Bill Hearn, president, Sparrow Communications Group. "So much of Charlie's audience is of college age and computer literate, and most universities and colleges have Internet access. Charlie's the perfect artist for this test launch in which we hope to include more artists at a later time."

"I believe artists are called upon to interface with their community, whether it be in a town square, the concert hall or the Internet," said Peacock. "The decision to develop a World Wide Web site on the Internet was easy. I wanted the music I create and the ideas I cherish to be more easily accessible."

While Peacock becomes the first contemporary Christian artist to premiere a complete single over the Internet, NetCentral, Inc. will also bring Reunion Records and R.E.X. online when it debuts in November. Reunion plans to provide information on Brent Bourgeois, while R.E.X. will introduce Randy Stonehill, Whitecross and several other artists to Internet users. NetCentral will offer users the opportunity to purchase product of all featured artists by filling out a product order form online. NetCentral is also working with the Gospel Music Association (GMA) to create an Internet presence for the organization, with developments

Musical Line-Up Highlights NRB '95

WITH JUST OVER three months remaining until religious broadcasters converge on the Opryland Hotel in Nashville for the 52nd Annual National Religious Broadcasters Convention and Exposition (NRB '95), Feb. 11-14, the NRB has announced that an added emphasis on music will be present during this year's convention, since Nashville is the host city.

Already scheduled as part of the musical line-up this year are Michael W. Smith, Steve Green and Phillips, Craig & Dean. As a special feature, the Ralph Carmichael Big Band, a 17-piece orchestra, will perform for the convention's Anniversary Banquet. Recently added to the NRB '95 musician line-up is country artist Ricky Skaggs, who will be featured at Saturday evening's Opening General Session.

On Sunday night, Bill Gaither will host a Praise Celebration, which will highlight a variety of musical styles. Confirmed guests include The Gaither Vocal Band, Susie Luchsinger, Janet Paschal, Howard & Vestal Goodman, The Speers, The Martins and Ivan Parker. "This is kind of a 'Gaither and Friends' sing-a-long, with each artist singing one number and a lot of group singing," said Mark Craig, who is coordinating the music for NRB '95.

NRB spokesperson Sarah Smith commented, "We're trying to bring in a variety of musical styles because our members obviously represent stations of various formats." ■

Out and About...

The film is scheduled to release in December. Amy and Vince will perform the duet on "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno" this Monday (Nov. 7)...
- Take 6 and DC Talk both performed last week at Billy Graham's youth crusade called "Jammin' In The Dome," which took place Saturday (Oct. 29) at Atlanta's Georgia Dome. Saturday night's crusade drew a total of 78,000 youth, breaking the Georgia Dome's attendance record set by last year's Super Bowl. The Billy Graham Association reports that 5,422 youth came forward at the evening's end to make decisions for Christ. Other performers for the week's crusades included Andraé Crouch, Babbie Mason, and The Gaither Vocal Band. Portions of last week's crusades are scheduled to air nationally in March of 1995...

Retailers Plan for Sparrow's 'Super Saturday'

SPARROW HAS ANNOUNCED plans for its second annual "Super Saturday" celebration to take place on Nov. 19 in 50 Christian retail outlets across the country, marking a 100 percent increase in the size of last year's promotion.

Lucy Diaz, vice president of artist development for Sparrow Communications Group explained, "We began 'Super Saturday' to acknowledge and reward accounts who had been especially supportive of Sparrow throughout the year. We wanted to help stores kick-off the holiday buying season with a tailor-made promotion, administered by Sparrow staffers from start to finish. The reaction from retailers after last year's event was so overwhelming that we had to do it again—we only needed to make it bigger so as to benefit more retailers. This year's 'Super Saturday' will significantly impact Christian retailers—and consumers—nationwide."

Consumers visiting any of the participating stores on November 19 will receive a deluxe Sparrow commemorative folder. Each folder will contain a special sampler cassette featuring the music of Sparrow artists, along with $2.00 coupons redeemable towards the purchase of any Sparrow CD or cassette and $2.00 coupons redeemable towards the purchase of any Sparrow Press book. The folders will also contain a drawing ticket and other artist and product information.

Craig Hansen, president of NetCentral, Inc., stated, "One of our primary marketing goals is to be the definitive Internet resource for Christian music lovers worldwide. In the next four months, there will be over 500,000 printed references to NetCentral's World Wide Web address in the media, and in record liner notes. This dynamic will create much of our traffic, and all of our clients will benefit from it.

"We're very excited that Sparrow is Every 30 minutes throughout the day, drawings will be held for free Sparrow CDs and cassettes. Additionally, the first 25 consumers in each store to purchase the new release by BeBe & CeCe Winans, Relationships, will receive a free copy of Sparrow's new video collection Sparrow TV Dinners, a possible 1,250 videos to give away.

To cap off the event, Sparrow artists and authors will appear at a number of participating stores. At press time, Steven Curtis Chapman, Margaret Becker, Bob Carlisle and Steve Taylor were confirmed for special appearances. Local radio stations will also conduct live remotes from various store locations.

While each store will be provided a Sparrow representative to host the event, Sparrow has also furnished advance advertising materials; and plans to help defray certain advertising expenses for participating stores.

Karen Wiley, public relations and promotions specialist for Family Bookstores, stated, "We were unable to participate last year and are really excited to have some of our stores involved this year. Sparrow has done a wonderful job in forming a complete partnership with CBA retailers in providing the necessary materials needed for this type of a promotion. It is going to be a wonderful tool to help stores prepare for the Christmas season." ■

SINGLE REVIEWS

Top Five

"One Step Closer to Your Broken Heart" Bob Carlisle

Sparrow
If you're in need of an energetic, soulful, radio-ready selection to beef up the music mix this fall, you've found it in the lead single from The Hope of a Man, Carlisle's sophomore solo project. Penned by Carlisle, former Allies colleague Randy Thomas and Bill Deaton, the album's producer, the tune is a shining example of the hooky R&B flavored music that has become Carlisle's trademark. Look for high chart peaks in the AC and CHR arenas. AC/CHR

"Promise Me" Aaron*Jeffrey Star Song

Star Song's father/son duo got off to a blazing start with a top five debut single, and now return with a power ballad that holds a great deal of... "promise." The song's strong lyrical content reminds us that Jesus can identify with the daily temptations and battles we face. Musically it's a slam-dunk at AC and Inspirational stations. AC/INSP

"Midnight Cry" Clay Crosse Reunion

Clay's impressive range and soul sensibilities serve him well in this new rendition of the gospel favorite. While he's crooning in the upper register most of the time, a host of background vocalists and bright mid to up-tempo track keep the song moving along well. I'd recommend the edit version, which shaves a minute off the song and keeps it from getting redundant. AC/CHR

"Treasure" Gary Chapman Reunion

Following two power-packed singles, our friends at Reunion pull back the reigns a bit and bless us with one of the most moving songs from The Light Inside. Chapman's emotion-laden vocal is aptly supported by a rich acoustic track featuring the musical talents of Chapman (if it has strings, he plays it) and co-producer Michael Omartian. This is music straight from the heart and you can feel it. AC/INSP

"Lamb of God" Donna Summer Light Records

Unless you've lived in a vacuum for the past fifteen years, Donna Summer needs no introduction... nor does her voice. Though taken from her forthcoming Christmas project, this single is slated for airplay immediately... and should get it. Summer's powerful vocals float effortlessly over a track (compliments of Michael Omartian) lush with choral bgv's and strings galore. This is a song that—just as the message it carries—is as inspirational the year-round as it is at Christmas. AC/INSP

"Love Has a Hold On Me" Amy Grant Myrrh

Grant's satin-smooth vocal carries us effortlessly through this beautiful reminder of God's faithfulness. Co-written by Grant and Keith Thomas, the musical landscape of the song is as lovely as the lyrics it supports. While complaints/concerns about lyrical ambiguity run rampant when dealing with "cross-over" projects like this, one cannot mistake what Grant is singing about in this one. There's potential for strong cross-format play here. AC/CHR/INSP

On The Chart:

"Today" Iona ForeFront

Iona's inimitable brand of Celtic-influenced music has yet to achieve its first real break-out single, but they seem to win new converts with each ensuing release. This is unique, yet accessible pop with a definite European edge... and a real breath of fresh air radio. Many ACs still may not want to reach this far from their typical fare, but CHRs should find something enticing about it. CHR/AC

Also Received:

"Because He Lives" George Beverly Shea & Michael

Tait ForeFront

Talk about bridging a generation... or two! This familiar church classic showcases two of the premiere vocalists of their respective eras. Make sure you listen to this one all the way through, or you'll miss the full impact of the innovative arrangement. It may not find its way into heavy rotation but, given the familiarity of the cut and the artists involved, it certainly warrants a spin or two. AC/CHR

VIDEOS

Pick

"Shine" Newsboys Star Song

Director/producer Steve Taylor has crafted a video that nearly defies description. Between the pumped up contrast, unusual images and little bits of comic relief, there's plenty here to keep you watching over and over again... and seeing new things each time. Taylor's imaginative use of the medium puts this clip on a level few others in the Christian industry have reached.

Also Received

"I Believe in Love" David Robertson Star Song

The former Imperial teams up with some of his best pals for a soul-filled jam on this visual interpretation of his first solo single. The majority of the clip features Robertson vocalizing in front of a variety of backdrops, with an occasional shot of the background vocalists and trumpet player thrown in just to keep it interesting. While it won't win awards for its originality, it's not painful to view and the tune is hot enough to keep you locked in.

ALBUM REVIEWS

Top Ten

Steve Green People Need the Lord Sparrow

This impressive collection summarizes a decade which has brought Green four Grammy nominations, six Dove Awards, numerous chart-topping hits and sales of over three million albums. Besides the title song, this collection features "God and God Alone," "We Believe," "Find Us Faithful" and "He Holds the Keys." New cuts include a spine-tingling acappella rendition of "A Mighty Fortress" and a medley of "Hallelujah! What a Savior/When I Survey the Wondrous Cross/And Can It Be."

Sandi Patty Find It On the Wings Word

After Le Voyage, Ms. Patty appears much more relaxed (she opens the album accompanied only by acoustic bass and guitar). Producer Greg Nelson designs a number of creative settings for Patty's voice, from the lilting Caribbean touches of the title track to the understated orchestral wash of "Holy Lord," to "Make It 'Til Tomorrow" (a stirring duet with Peabo Bryson), to the propulsive pop of "Build My World Around You." Sandi can still uncork a dramatic chorus, but it's her restraint which distinguishes this fine project.

On The Chart

Chris Christensen Shout From the Mountain Hosanna!

Christensen, who lives in Brussels, Belgium, describes himself as a "musicianary," ministering the Gospel through worship music, often to a mainly French-speaking congregation. So the songs on this uplifting collection (mostly penned by Chris), deal primarily with reinforcing the listeners' faith and bolstering their confidence to share the fundamental truths of God's word with others.

Ian Supersonic Dream Day Reunion

A veteran of mainstream and Christian club work, Ian is a gifted composer, remixer, programmer, performer and singer whose Reunion debut is chock full of memorable keyboard and vocal hooks. Ian offers progressive dance tracks such as the title tune, "Get Live, Get Loud" and "Everybody (Take Control)," the Caribbean-oriented riddims of "Be Free" and gentle ballads like "My Favorite Emotion" and "I Am the Way." A tireless touring schedule should net great results.

Maurice Sklar El Shaddai Praise Magnificat/Integrity

This is a full-blown classical album, courtesy of the arrangements of Larry Dalton and the backing of the National Philharmonic Orchestra of London. But the focus is on world-class violinist Sklar, whose sweet, pure tone carries none of the harshness sometimes associated with the instrument. Traditional hymns, contemporary praise songs and classical standards are interpreted by Sklar; especially vibrant are his renderings of compositions by Bach, Beethoven, Handel and other classical masters.

Also Received

The Ralph Carmichael Big Band

Strike Up the Band Brentwood Jazz

Mr. Carmichael is one of the cornerstones of what we now call contemporary Christian music. But his earliest musical love was for the Swing and Big Band sounds popular in his youth. Ever the innovator, Carmichael has re-cast some of his best-known songs, such as "He's Everything to Me," "A Quiet Place," "Reach Out to Jesus" and "Tell It Like It Is" in the classic brass and sax configuration of a big band. The result is a sound that is so retro it's hip & modern, yet it should be appreciated by jazz purists.

Freedom of Soul The 2nd Comin' Brainstorm

Peace and Toon are their names; their 1991 debut was one of the coolest rap discs of its time, and this long-awaited follow-up is just as down. Production by the duo w/Super C and Dennis "Cut No Slack" Drew is body slammin', while the gents' rhymes are fully street and brimming over with the duo's faith. A welcome sense of humor permeates the tracks, which helps the no-nonsense message go down. These guys are the whole biscuit.

MxPx Pokinatcha Tooth & Nail

Riding the crest of the punk rock resurgence is this suburban Seattle trio, comprised of 17-year old bassist Mike, 16-year old guitarist Andy and (old man) 18-year old drummer Yuri. MxPx (short for Magnafied Plaid, if that helps) is, like its pals poor old lu, very polished and mature (lu—manary Aaron Sprinkle produced this high-energy debut). Clever lyrics, catchy hooks and vocals you can actually understand make this one of the top debuts of the year.

Havalina Rail Co. Havalina Rail Co. Tooth & Nail

I think I can safely say that this is the first folk/Cajun/blues/avant garde jazz/world beat/rockabilly/country/gospel/string band in Christian music (and I may have left a few influences out)—amazingly, it all fits! The line-up varies from six to sixteen players, depending on whether the group is playing a coffee shop, a concert hall or street corner. The patient listener should find great lyrical and musical rewards among the 19 tracks.

New Tradition Old Time Gospel

Jamboree Brentwood Bluegrass

These gents are probably better known for their vocal and songwriting skills; this disc gives them the chance to showcase their picking abilities on a set of gospel standards. Though all four men are talented musicians, Danny Roberts' mandolin work and Ken White's flat-picked guitar solos are exceptional. Acclaimed guests Jerry Douglas on dobro and Bobby Hicks on fiddle make this a must have set for bluegrass enthusiasts.

Various Artists A Light From The Underground Vol. 1 (Ocean/CEO)

Demo-lition II (R.E.X.); Hard Music

Compilation Vol. 1 (Heaven's Metal);

Helpless Among Friends (Tooth & Nail)

These discs are proof that some of the best Christian rockers out there aren't currently dominating the charts. Notable performers on Light include Union, Spatt and Trio of One (there's also a previously unreleased Crucified cut); Demo II features Crucifix, Rivot & Leader Dogs For The Blind; the Heaven's Metal comp. offers a new, acoustic-driven Bride tune, plus outstanding selections by Scapegoat & Kerygma Child; top bands on Helpless include niv, Clay & Blenderhead. All discs contain addresses for obtaining product from the bands, and are a great way to explore new music without a large investment.

*"There have been more times; Than I care to admit
When I trusted in what I could do; So assured in my heart
That my strength was enough; Instead of depending on you*

*Oh, give me a Childlike Faith...
With a heart so pure and
A love that is faithful and true
Give me a Childlike Faith"*

Words that pierce the heart
Songs that change lives
