Integrity Launches Aggressive Artist Marketing Campaign

INTEGRITY MUSIC HAS announced an aggressive marketing plan to launch four new artists in February. Entitled "Music 4 U," the campaign highlights the debut release No Greater Love, by contemporary gospel artist Keith Staten on the Glorious Music label, as well as three debut projects on the Integrity Music label. There Is a Hope is the first album by inspirational artist Alicia, while the self-titled project by Justo Almario and Abraham Laboriel has a definite jazz flavor. Produced by Chris Harris, the self-titled offering by AC duo KarenLeigh will feature both Karen Childers and Leigh Cappillino in alternate solo settings, with songwriting credits that include Toby McKeehan, David Mullen, Chris Rodriguez, Grant Cunningham and Matt Huesmann among others.

Although Integrity has been associated more with the praise and worship musical genre, the success of artists like Susie Luchsinger, Ron Kenoly and Lenny LeBlanc have taken the label down a new path. Integrity's director of trade marketing, Glenn Wagner, stated, "This campaign is a statement of what Integrity Music can do. We feel we've got four great artists with four different unique styles. We want retailers and everybody to know that we are definitely in the artist business."

With all four complete projects being released simultaneously at the end of February, the "Music 4 U" program also features a value-priced cassette sampler which will contain one song from each artist plus a short interview. Cassettes will be sold in a 12-pack display. Also, a special in-store pre-release CD radio single will ship to stores December 15, 1994. Videos of all four artists will be released to Christian video outlets and, according to Wagner, each artist will also have tour placement in 1995. At press time, plans were in the works for KarenLeigh to open on Newsong's upcoming tour.

Additional in-store point-of-purchase merchandising for the campaign includes a "Music 4 U" sell-in flyer, a floor display, shelf talker, mini-magazine including artist bios and posters. Radio ad buys for four weeks will be found on "CCM Countdown" and "20: The Countdown Magazine." While singles from each of the four artists will be shipped to radio stations nationwide, Integrity has also planned a radio promotional tour to support the releases. Print advertising, including in-store discount coupons, will run in: CCM,

Word's Offices Burglarized During Thanksgiving Holiday

WHILE NASHVILLE'S MUSIC business community closed down during Thanksgiving weekend, the staff of Word Records & Music returned last week to find their offices had been burglarized. According to the Nashville Metropolitan Police Department, the burglar(s) gained access to the company's offices through a forced entry, which is believed to have taken place sometime between late Friday (Nov. 25) afternoon and early Saturday morning. Stolen equipment included various MacIntosh computers, monitors and laser printers at an estimated total value of $11,000. No confirmation was received as to what software data was lost as a result of the stolen property.

According to the investigating officer, Detective Aubrey Turner, the police have no definite leads or suspects at this time. Turner confirmed that the incident did not appear to be music industry-related. "We have seen a very large increase in computer theft [in that area of town] recently," Turner stated. "We are conducting a thorough investigation at this time."

"We are hoping that someone will be able to offer more information," Turner added. "I would ask that anyone with information regarding this crime please contact the Metro Police Department immediately." ■

Out and About...

- The Nov. 28 issue of Newsweek magazine carried the theme of "The Search for the Sacred: America's Quest for Spiritual Meaning" and featured a special story on the growing musical genre of Christian rap. The article, titled "Rhymes of Redemption," mentioned such gospel rappers as T-Bone, The Gospel Gangstas, DC Talk and D.O.C.
- If you had a chance to catch Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade on television, you probably saw Miss America, Heather Whitestone, signing for the hearing impaired to a familiar tune, Sandi Patty's "Love In Any Language." Whitestone will appear on TNN's "Music City Tonight" this Monday, Dec. 5....
- Star Song and Resource Media Group have announced the national "Name the Shineheads" contest, based on the Newsboys' video "Shine." Contestants are to name all six characters appearing in the video, and submit entries to sponsoring retailers and video shows to win prizes including Newsboys concert tickets, backstage passes, jackets, product, etc. The contest runs through January 31, 1995....
- Columbia Records has released a special Christmas sampler featuring selections by D.C. Talk, Mariah Carey, Tony Bennett, Neil Diamond, T-Bone Burnett, Peabo Bryson, Bruce Springsteen, Harry Connick, Jr., Nancy Wilson, Bruce Cockburn and Shawn Colvin....

Correction

Due to a production error, a #1 chart position listed on page one of the of the Nov. 28 issue of The CCM Update was incorrect. The #1 AC song should have been listed as "Things Are Gonna Change" by Bryan Duncan, on Myrrh Records. The AC chart on page 11 was correct. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Israeli Government Invites "Lightmusic" to Holy Land

THE STAFF AND CREW of contemporary Christian music TV show "Lightmusic" flew to Israel last Wednesday (Nov. 30), at the invitation of the Israel Ministry of Tourism and El Al Airlines, to produce a special Christmas program in Israel. As part of an effort to promote tourism among American Christian young people, the Israeli government will pay for "Lightmusic's" expenses during the staff's 10-day trip.

"We are thrilled to be going to Israel—and especially thrilled to have been invited by the Israeli government," said Tom Green, producer and host of the daily, nationally syndicated program, currently in its 12th season and airing on 62 TV stations, 4 satellite networks and more than 1000 cable systems throughout North America.

The 30-minute "Lightmusic Christmas in Israel" special will air first on WPCB-TV 40 in Pittsburgh at 6:30 p.m. and midnight on Friday, Dec. 16. The program will then be broadcast around the country during Christmas week.

"I think that American Christians think that they have to wait until they are 60 years old to visit the Holy Land," continued Green. "We will reverently walk where Jesus walked...but 'Lightmusic' will put a younger spin on experiencing the land of the Bible. We won't just visit the Jordan River...we will white-water raft it."

"Tens of thousands of American Jewish teenagers have been enjoying vacations in Israel for decades," said Sheryl Stein, Public Relations Director for El Al, the national airlines of Israel. "'Lightmusic'—with its viewers mostly in the 18-24 year-old age group—can help generate interest among American Christian young adults." ■

Reunion Forms Alternative Music Label

REUNION RECORDS HAS announced the formation of a new division, Rode Dog Records, to develop and promote alternative music. The initial Rode Dog roster includes The Prayer Chain and The Throes; other artist signings will be announced in the coming months. The label expects to sign one or two new artists in 1995. Reunion's Rock/Alternative Promotions Coordinator, Dave Palmer, will assume responsibilities as general manager of the new imprint.

"As we looked at more aggressive music aimed at a young audience, we found a need for a grass roots, touring-based division that looks at innovative ways to connect with changing youth audiences," says Reunion president Terry Hemmings.

Rode Dog Records will maintain a light release schedule of 3-4 projects per year, in order to give more focus and attention to the artists involved. "We feel it is very important to keep our roster small, so that retail, radio, press and promoters will feel comfortable knowing that Rode Dog will make a concerted effort to maximize our opportunities for every release," said Palmer.

Touring will be a key element in the process. "The best thing to get people excited about an artist's music is to see that artist perform. We are committed to working with artists who are on the road, and so far our roster reflects that," Palmer continued. "The Prayer Chain has played close to 200 dates in support of their last record, and The Throes regularly play between 60-100 dates per year. We're looking to have a greater impact by supporting these dates in every area—retail, radio and press, and turning a single performance into two or three or four opportunities to introduce the artists to a wider audience."

The Throes' label debut will release in March, and The Prayer Chain's follow up to their debut, Shawl, is due in early April. ■
